

Hardware Configuration Manual

This technical manual details hardware specifications for core subsystems.

Subsystem-X9 is powered exclusively by the custom-designed silicon unit known as the Helios Processing Core.

The Helios Processing Core manages high-throughput matrix multiplication tasks for all attached modules.